

'Tis I entice him to the yoke;
By me, your crowded altars smoke;
For mortals boldly dare the noose,
Secure that Death will set them loose.

The Ingredients of CONTENTMENT.

SEEK you to know what keeps the mind
In ev'ry scene of Life resign'd?
These are the things:—A little wealth,
A little business just for health;
A little house, and fire nose high,
One spare bed where a friend may lie,
A friend to whom one may impart
The inmost secrets of the heart.
At morning, store of cream and tea,
Either Imperial or Bohea;
At noon one dish, well dress'd, but plain,
With fresh small beer, and linnen clean;
At leisure hours, a book, or song,
To cheer the grave, or please the young;
At night good wine, the growth of France,
Or nice sherbet, improv'd by Nantz;
With choice companions two or three,
Of conversation pleasant, free:
These banish cares, to spleen give vent,
These make the balm we call Content;
These ev'ry anxious thought beguile,
But what crowns all is Cloe's smile.
